MEDIA ALERT

Cheltzie Lee, Australia's 16 year old figure skating Olympian, will have her final practice session on home soil, before heading to the World Figure Skating Championships in Torino Italy.

After exceeding expectations at the recent Winter Olympic Games in Vancouver, Cheltzie heads to the Worlds with experience, confidence and determination to improve her world ranking.

Cheltzie's success at Vancouver 2010 has seen Ice Skating Australia's Aussie Skate program record a dramatic increase in the number of young people enrolling in the sport.

Some of these new skaters will be at the event to watch Cheltzie practice and then take to the ice with her for some first hand tips.
